

Ryan Estrellado

Ryan Estrellado is an executive consultant at the South County Special Education Local Plan Area (SELPA), where he helps SELPAs build equitable systems for students with disabilities. He helps educators use practical data analysis to improve their students' experiences. Estrellado is a Strategic Data Project Fellow, a program of the Center for Education Policy Research at Harvard University. He enjoys writing both code and words alike and is a co-author of the book "Data Science in Education Using R" and the author of the upcoming book "The K-12 Educator's Data Guidebook: Reimagining Practical Data Use in Schools."